EDWIN ALDEN & BROS NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING AGENCY

Preface.

For the past six years we have issued our American Newspaper Catalogue in different forms, always guided by the wants of our customers. We present this year a catalogue, which embraces new and important features never before embodied in any similar work. In arranging the complex materials gathered from more than twelve thousand sources scattered all over the United States and the Canadas, our object has been to present at a glance all the information advertisers may desire with reference to any particular newspaper or magazine. No pains have been spared to secure accuracy, and reliability, and to make the volume a standard one for reference. For this purpose all the statistics and special information has been obtained directly through personal agencies and correspondence with Publishers, Editors, Post-Masters, and others. We believe the catalogue is as nearly perfect as a free expenditure of money, time, patience, and a careful revision can make it.

To facilitate the finding of any particular locality and the papers published in it, has been a cardinal point in the general design.

By a peculiar arrangement of the type (all of which has been made expressly for this work), we are able to give on the same line, name of city or town where paper is published, with its population, name of paper, actual length of advertising column, number of pages, frequency of issue, its politics, class or denomination, date of establishment, circulation ; also—what is very important—we have designated such papers as are printed on the co-operative plan.

The total number of newspapers published in the United States and the Canadas as herein catalogued is 12,158 ; total in the United States, 11,522 ; Canadas, 636. Published as follows : Dailies, 1,152 ; Tri-Weeklies, 80 ; Semi-Weeklies, 150 ; Weeklies, 9,078 ; Bi-Weeklies, 23 ; Semi-Monthlies, 202 ; Monthlies, 1,290 ; Bi-Monthlies, 12.

Notwithstanding all our care and caution errors doubtless have intruded and we would regard any corrections a special favor.

EDWIN ALDEN & BRO.

INDEX TO ADVERTISEMENTS 713

Description of our Agency.

AMID the complex and diversified interests transacted through the instrumentality of pen and type correspondence, book-keeping, and copying, recognized as office business, that known as Advertising Agencies stands prominent for its complications and multiform relations; so much so indeed that special provision for office furniture and the auxiliary attachments becomes a necessity for promptly executing the demands upon such an extensive agency as we now control.

A business could hardly be named which involves such a multiplicity of correspondence, entries, transfers, examinations and checking, in order to secure promptitude, accuracy and dispatch. Hence the requirements of order, system, conveniences, drilled and reliable clerks for the execution of the ever recurring daily routine.

Fourteen years of experience have pressed and impressed the foregoing facts on our minds, and led to the adoption in our new and extensive building of such facilities as will aid us in meeting every want that may arise in all departments of our business. Believing a brief description with photographic views of such improvements, will interest our patrons and correspondents, and at the same time communicate some idea of the magnitude of our Advertising Agency, we present the following outline of our several offices and their dependencies.

MAIN OFFICE.

This is a large, high, airy, thoroughly lighted and well ventilated room, 100 by 30 feet, with an "L" 30 feet square, making an area of 3900 feet. The floors and all the desks, tables, cabinets, cases, closets, and wainscotings are of hard wood, oil-finished. In this room we meet our customers and conduct our principal business. Here contracts are made with publishers from all parts of the country and space purchased in their newspapers. With over five thousand such papers, and with nearly one thousand advertisers, we have running book accounts and correspondence; here the piles of newspapers are classified, again sub-divided into different sections of the country, and in each branch of such division it is the special business of a clerk to examine advertisements, check, measure and register their insertions, when, if found correct, they are then sent up to the filing room. Those containing errors are transferred to another department-clerk whose duty it is to notify the publishers of omissions, of errors in form, place, manner or style of any advertisement, and by correspondence to see that the necessary correction is duly made in subsequent issues. The rigid discipline involved in watching these varied and complicated accounts so as to avoid mistakes, can hardly be estimated by those unacquainted with this peculiar business. To aid us in prosecuting this daily routine involves the services of FORTY clerks, most of whom have grown up with the business, and are so familiarized with its details that errors seldom, if ever, occur.

A NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENT.

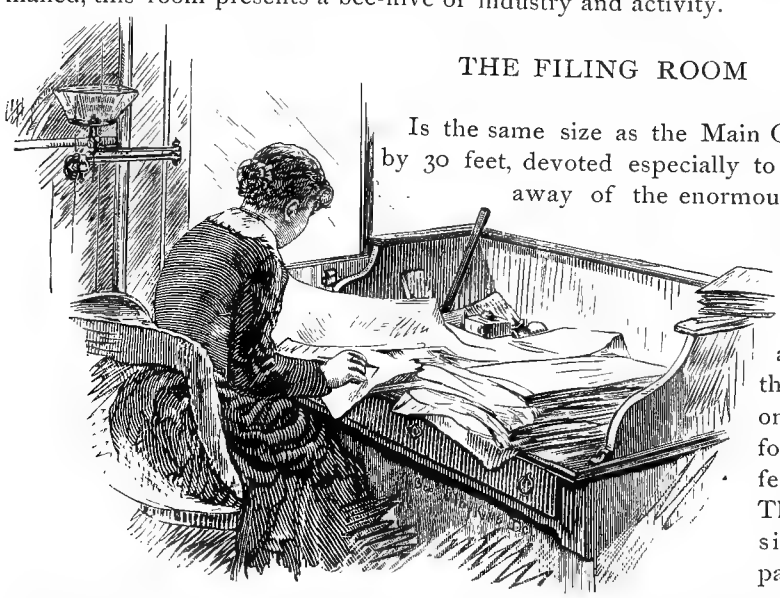
The cabinets and desks are furnished with every possible convenience in view of their several uses, and are connected with electric calls and speaking tubes which, extend to every department.

The offices are lighted at night by 87 gas jets, every one of which is fired simultaneously by an electric current in the act of turning on the gas. The office is also connected with the telegraph and express offices through the same subtle agent. By these and telephone conveniences very much time is saved.

READY FOR THE FILES.

THE ELECTROTYPE ROOM

Opens into the "L" from the main office, and contains thousands of different electrotypes. These are all classified and distributed in the cabinets, and are all lettered and numbered, thus greatly facilitating the selection of any desired cut in a moment. It is provided with cutters, cardboard, twine, paper, blanks, tags, mail-bags, and all the traps for rushing out mail under high steam pressure. The tops of the cabinets form abench for wrapping, stamping, and tagging, and when as on some days thousands of cuts are mailed, this room presents a bee-hive of industry and activity.



THE FILING ROOM

Is the same size as the Main Office, 100 by 30 feet, devoted especially to the filing away of the enormous bulk of papers daily received, in such a manner that each one may be found in a few seconds The disposition of papers has proved a fearful trouble to all Advertising Agencies, but most happily we have surmounted this difficulty and removed the stumbling-block out of the way. In this room are 22 alcoves 26 ft. by 40 inches, well-lighted in the day and with gas at night, containing 10,000 boxes of the capacity of 70 to 80 papers each, all lettered, numbered, arranged and so classified that each one of the distributing clerks knows just the exact location of any Daily, Weekly, or Monthly, and upon call through the air tubes for any paper, is able to send it immediately by elevator to the desk. In securing unbrokenfiles of all the papers we receive, and through which we advertise, we are necessarily dependent upon publishers, post-offices, messengers, clerks and others whose claim to infallibility does not appear in the handling of our paper mail, but believe we have reached the highest attainable completion of continuous files—an accomplishment involving immense labor and patience.

The great importance of this department may be estimated when it is remembered we are often called upon to show 3000 to 4000 papers of particular dates from all over the United States, as vouchers to customers that the publishers have complied with their agreements, and that our statements exactly correspond.

THE PRINTING OFFICE

Has with our system become a necessary auxiliary in the prosecution of our business. It is amply supplied with various fonts of type especially adapted to the display of advertisements, which are set up in various styles and forms, printed in blanks and sent to our customers for such selection as best suits their fancy and tastes. Here, too, all our own circulars, postals, blanks, and miscellaneous matter is set up and run off, furnishing work enough all the time for four printers and three presses.

THE MAIL ROOM.

In this room our newspaper mail is opened. The papers are spread out and separated into classes and States, ready for examination in the main office.

OUR ADVANTAGES.

In addition to every facility a well appointed office and experienced assistants affords, we have the experience of fourteen years of the most intimate and cordial relations with the most successful and extensive advertisers in the country. As some evidence of our ability to execute orders however large, and to inspire some degree of confidence in our capacity of doing so upon a scale of prices beyond competition, we would state that we own and control over $200,000 worth of space in various newspapers and magazines, and being the exclusive agents of a majority of the most popular and satisfactory médiums—the Religious Papers—gives us pre-eminent advantages. Not only so, but our location as a distributing point, is unequalled—Cincinnati being the centre of population, per late census. A mail sent in either directions of the compass, arrives at its destination in a more uniform time than from any other city.

"The Antecrat of the Dreadful Table" appears among the books recommended to be read in the Christmas course. We remember reading that work as it originally appeared in the Atlantic Monthly many years ago, and the impression it left with us is that it was a positive and even violent anti-Christian production. We have since read most that Dr. Holmes has written, which, instead of removing our earlier unfavorable, have confirmed and intensified them, until we have come to eschew him about the most aggressive as well as the most insinuating of the whole school of Rationalistic agnostics. Has Dr. Vincent had an expurgated edition prepared? (We hate expurgations, and suspect that they often send the truthful readers away in search of the garnished matter.) If not, then "there is death in the pot."

One of our religious weeklies gives to its readers a brief article on Robert G. Ingersoll, in which they are informed that he lectured in the Academy of Music to a very full house; that he was "witty and entertaining," and "kept his audience for over three hours;" that "he is an life-long friend of Ingersoll," and keeps his audience on the best of terms with himself also." And then, speaking for himself, that diligent Christian worker proceeds to say:

"If the reasoning can dogmatically can be called a laugh, and it is impossible to answer a ringing round of applause. He leaves enough of the Bible to pick out the texts he wants to stir at the heads of doctors of divinity, and enough of science to make entertaining nonsense in a long of infidelity. Such a man is an intellectual to secure an immense following and is an irreparable damage to Christianity and the church."

We are not aware that this latest rider of a polemical Rozinante either employs a Sancho Panza, or pays for advertising; but had we his ear, we might suggest that it would be only generous, not to say just, to send a couple of tickets for his next "performance" to the office of that paper. Come now, colonel, turn about is fair play, and fair play is a jewel.

The Christian at Work, which ought to be an authority in the premises, says that "Presbyterianism is governed by presbyteries, and this, too, regardless of Calvinistic doctrine." The former clause of this statement is, in its form, simply a truism, but is it a fact? Are all who have part in its governmental prerogatives, and then, how about the Calvinism? We are aware that some other originally Calvinistic bodies have practically eliminated that element, and also that one might attend almost any Presbyterian church the year about without detecting its presence in the teachings of the pulpit, and yet we suppose that the Westminster documents, to which we have heretofore told some good things, were still at least nominally "held to" in our Presbyterian churches. And then we recollect that when a Pan-Presbyterian Council met in Philadelphia, a few years ago, the representatives of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church were not admitted, it was said, because they were not Confessionists, and still earlier, the Edinburgh Council, the British Wesleyans were not invited, but the Welsh Methodists were, though the former were at that time the most thoroughly and exclusively Presbyterian body in the United Kingdom. Is it evident that we do not "understand all mysteries"? We would, however, "have charity," but are at a loss how in this case to apply it.

The modern school of science has lost its leader by the death of Charles Darwin. It has rarely been the fortune of any one book to produce such a distinctness in its contrast of the world's thought as was done by the "Origin of Species," twenty-two years ago. Opinions may still differ as to whether the change that was effected by this work was salutary, but no one can be blind to the fact that it has been extensive and fraught with great consequences, which are visible in nearly every department of study. Whatever may be the morals of the doctrines taught by Mr. Darwin—and in this there will be almost as many opinions as there are scientists—we think that it is not just to charge him with all the extravagances preached by his followers, and by some who are not his followers, but independent thinkers who have been popularly, but wrongly, called Darwinians, because their thoughts have touched his at some points. No man was ever more cautious in arriving at an opinion, or more modest in expressing it, than Mr. Darwin; no investigator was ever more patient, more candid, more conscientious, in giving full force to every fact, whether it was consistent with what he had thought before or not, than he. His later works—and we refer more to further classes of objects or phenomena—are fine examples of the manner in which minute absorption is details, the due notice of the most insignificant things, and observations of hourly changes, may be systematized and made to contribute to some important purpose.

The sense of God's pity must be yoke-fellow with the sense of his power. This makes the contrast between human and divine compassion. Our fellows pity and cannot help; God pities and helps. It is only compassion that man ask in slight and imaginary distresses; it is help and succor which they cry out for in the real and intense sorrows of life. But, unhappily, we are too apt to let God in such extremities as if he was a man to help us as a man might if he were strong enough. God's help begins with God's wisdom; it is not the blundering assistance of a short-sighted man, but the perfectly wise succor of divine omniscience. He knows what is best for us in the hour, that finds him he gives the royal best. "It is impossible that we should know now that life gift is best we shall know hereafter. But even in life there comes an after hour when we see his ways aglow under the light of experience. Indeed, all our past that was passed with God affirms the excellence of his purchases. Who has trusted him and come to regret his trust? Even some that have cast off faith—such as George Eliot—look back to the trustful days with regret; they were happier then, and knew it with deepest sadness. This also is true in the case of those that believe—or will not—confess the excellence of trust in divine pity and power. How can this best not be truth's welcome and refreshment? Happy cry all breast voices, are the souls that from the storms of life can take shelter under the wings of the Almighty!

"We publish in another column Dr. Porter's answer to our invitation to him to state explicitly whether persons going to the South to live would be allowed the measure of political freedom they exercise at home, and expect and intend to exercise wherever their home may be. Dr. Porter says in a private note that he is willing to make oath to the facts of his letter, hard as it may be for some to believe it. He has since sent us a letter on the same subject, called out by what has been published in THE METHODIST, which he approves as expressing the point with great force. We extract the most material sentences in order that our readers may have as fully and precisely as possible how Southern gentlemen feel and talk on this subject. During remarked that the organization of the colored vote means simply the organization of one set of political machines against which Tom Mercenary warns, is idle: "Our editor will find when those persons who are desirous of organizing the colored vote care for that purpose, that there are also other organizers that can organize, and, indeed, will. White people in the class of men desired, I have never failed to find that when a Republican comes among us and conducts himself as a gentleman, and takes the advancement of all good local objects he can reasonably ask for—when he—pleases, where principle is concerned, and need not take a back seat. It is certainly the policy of all good men so to do and such the colored people that they may vote understandingly, and not have to be organized as a distinct element in society. This, it seems to me, is our only hope for the future."

An excellent practice appears to be growing into vogue in some of the Annual Conferences of the South, of giving much prominence to the memorial services observed in commemoration of those members of the body who may have died during the past year. A special session, usually in the afternoon, is devoted to it, at which the ministers prepared for the occasion are

THE HEBREW LEADER.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY OCTOBER 22, 1880. Three Dollars a Year

The Christian Intelligencer.

NEW-YORK, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 19, 1882.

EASTER.—This hallowed festival seems to have of late observed almost universally among our churches. In many cases it was also Communion Sabbath, so that the mingled memories of the Resurrection and the triumph of our Heavenly Redeemer were shown in their central conditions, and yet their harmony of design. And many earnests were admitted to the long-waiting-room of the church amid the brightness of flowers and the strains of joyful music. It is well for them to signalize these fruitful and beautiful ideas with the Christian life. There are no flowers too fair or too great to symbolize the charm of a Christian experience, or the exiled resistance of a life hid with Christ. There are no symphonies so tuneful as a heart in harmony with God, no marching music so inspiriting and triumphal, as that of the Church militant. But it is equally well to be reminded in the same sense, and on the day of one's public vow, of the waves of storm and the cry of agony, the sighs and silence of the blooms like Gethsemane and the accursed tree.

A MONUMENT TO LONGFELLOW.—The people of Cambridge have been taking steps to secure a permanent memorial of their beloved and illustrious citizen, a fervent phase, have been discussed,—one is urged a movement in the college grounds near old Massachusetts Hall, another to place it in Memorial Hall. It has finally been decided to set apart the lot which he owned,—and which he kept vacant for the view it commanded of the Charles River and of Boston,—directly opposite his historic home, as a memorial park; and to place in it a simple statue of the poet, himself in marble. We would express our hope that this filling movement will not be retarded by that locality; but that all of us, small and great, in particular to make an offering towards it.

VOX POPULI seems to the front again in the President's veto of the Anti-Chinese bill. For, whatever may be the merits of the question underlying that bill, there can be no doubt that the vote was on the sober second thought of the great mass of the sober and thoughtful people of our country. And there we have a new illustration of the way in which our government "checks and balances," which forces us to feeling a feature of our Republic. Republican it is, as in this case, the Executive which checks the Legislative department; and conversely, as in the recent case, nearly dismissed by the House of the Senate's attempt to restore the Franking privilege—one branch of the Legislature checking even a move of the other; and we have the Judiciary to fall back upon to correct, from their wrinkled seat of general review, the inconsiderate action of both.

DR. BEADLE'S REQUESTS.—It is seldom that a man's life and character are so publicly subserved in his last will and testament as were those of Dr. Beadle, of Poughkeepsie. It was not simply the fact that he bequeathed more than $100,000 to charitable and religious objects; but that his distribution of this large sum shows the same wise thought,wisdom, the same wide type of sympathy, the same tenderness for the helpless and friendless, the same appreciation of the Gospel ministry, the same loyalty to his church, and the same love of the Lord Jesus, which furnished the motive and the completion of so many useful years.

DR. T. L. OTTLEY declined an appointment to the Gen. Assembly this year on the ground of a growing diffidence in leaving the deliberations, of such an immense body. We are sincerely sorry that our honored and beloved brother should suffer any inconvenience from this cause. But we comfort ourselves with the thought that it is not what Dr. Ottley hears, but what he says with his eloquent tongue and writes with his vivid and incisive pen, with which the world is mainly concerned. And while these retain their strength and cunning, we shall be abundantly content to let General Assemblies do the best they can without him.

A HARD CASE.—There are evangelical men to the badly perverted rule, that, a" prophet is likely to receive honor everywhere" except than in his own country and in his father's house. Such a marked exception as the recent selection by the Calvinistic Church, of one of its own sons to be its next pastor,—one who was brought up on a hay among them,and whose ministry of seven years has been passed under their eye. But that was just the reason why the wise old Church chose him.

DECEPTIVE ARE FACTS.—The Nation devotes more than two columns under this title to a comment on the church relations of the family of Jesse James, the consecrated Missouri bandit, and his mother's exulting expressions of belief that he was now a beatified saint in heaven. In its large, and "liberal," generalization this becomes to the Nation a typical case of "the tendency to make faith take the place of right living." We, on the contrary, should regard it as a decided case than trusting the prevalent lack of faith—in the revivalism of strength,—which the mingled sneers and open humiliation of modern Liberalism have succeeded in producing, alike among the cultured and the dangerous classes of our country.

A TALMAGIAN ECHO.—We can see no remit from Dr. Talmage's well-meant "Replies to Agnostic" except to advertise the latter, just as Clark Bradley's attacks upon his personal character only enables him to pose as a victim of persecution.

THE "DECAY" OF MODERN PREACHING.

WE find, last week, that any sermons decline in the attractive power of modern preaching was simply the result of enlarged mind-ideas in modern life, to which the pulpit has not yet entirely adjusted itself.

One of these is the relative decline in importance of spoken, as compared to written, instruction. People are not so dependent upon the former in this illerian age of print, and are disposed to imagine themselves not dependent upon it at all. They will find out, by-and-by, that cold type can never take the place of the lavish heart, and lips touched with the living coal of inspiration. Those who depend in instruction, merely as instruction, must always look with more or its power and value.

Mr. Mahaffy calmly says that, "among the better classes and with educated congregations," the day of preaching has" gone by;" and he puts it on the ground that "they no longer want instruction from the pulpit, when they can find it in thousands of books," and, will not consent to be instructed by their "inferiors in intellect and culture." He overlooks the fact that the "instruction of the pulpit is in a specialty,for which the preacher has received an exceptional training, viz.,In the holy patriotism of the Bible and of spiritual experience, in their practical relations to one another and to their application to the facts of life. The preacher brings to bear these life-long studies, in their general aspects, upon his pulpit-w ork;suggestive, and then, as pastor, brings them to bear upon individual cases. It is not possible that the science of moral ingrees can outstrip such special and superb training, nor supercede the sense of its value and necessity by all earnest minds.

Moreover, the "instruction "is not so much of the mind as of the heart and life. We ourselves have been a hearer, rather than a preacher of the Word, all his, and can speak from experience. Can we at most, and preach-ng is relished by us, not in proportion as the preacher seeks to cram our intellects, but to get at our inner nature, that he may be able to touch and stash our spiritual natures by opening up the Scriptures, and impacting to us, as we come up out of the world, a sense of the reality and the divineness of the things unseen and eternal. We have written on the "efficacy" of more "intellect and culture," and glow and grow colder the exalted message of one who is mighty only in the Word of God, and in his evident attentions on our sympathizing in saving and sanctifying power.

That preacher will be very unwise, in every sense of that term, who forgets that he is sent just as much to the living, as to the dead. By this we do not mean, preach about the Word, but preach the Word itself. Otherwise he detaches himself from the "power of God," and divides himself by assuming less than the "wisdom of God unto salvation." He who marries Bible as a guide-book will be always rich, and enriching to his people; but he who regards it as a railroad bulletin, for his own sarcenous gain the fields of heavenly philosophy, will soon weary both himself and his hearers. People never tire of the Bible, and preachers never exhaust it. The chief element of interest and winning power in Fred'k. Robertson's sermons was in their close identification with,and profound analysis of, Scripture; and those of his sermons which are most famous and fascinating, are those in which these qualities are the most apparent.

There is no need, therefore, of any change in the method or the subject-matter of preaching. In order to adjust it to the changed conditions of our day. The preacher needs only to remember, first, that his specific method, is Oratory. He cannot say anything which is better than what can be packed anywhere in print. But he can say it better, if he be indeed a speaker by natural endowment and training. Secondly, let him remember the changed habits of modern life, arising from a multiplicity of interests and objects. Therefore let him cling awy ha how-glass, and substitute the minute-glass; and let him recognize this in the epoch of the pressure of time. People have no time nor taste for the long-drawn and the three-leaving sort of preaching that used formar generations, and whose remains repose in state upon our book-shelves. Here a shelf of Robertson's conspectus, duly and elegantly arranged, will also be available. This is also a condite age. Man's eye and ear require to be caught at their door, and kept weak object-lessons. They will go to sleep under a sermon-lecture. Let the preacher wish a mental stereogram will be the most wakeful and awakening. Thirdly, let not doctrine, nor advanced thought, be left "deep" in pulpit attention, by a study of the condition of the "mass" among our people,—nor "come to the help" of their state, where they are neither Hillerian nor intelligent. There is danger, alike of preaching over and under them. And if they have largely slipped out from the range of pulpit batteries or the magic of pulpit charm, there should be a young forth of the preach-

THE CHRISTIAN INTELLIGENCER is the representative organ of the Reformed Church in America. It circulates largely in the State of New York among the rich old Knickerbocker families, and in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, and Michigan, among a population noteworthy for their thrift and wealth; it numbers among its subscribers a generous proportion of the leading minds in the professional, literary, mercantile, and agricultural classes of these States.

In view of these facts it is believed that THE CHRISTIAN INTELLIGENCER is a highly desirable medium for the advertisement of books and publications of all kinds; of schools, academies, and teachers; of musical instruments, pictures, and articles of virtu; of goods for household use and consumption, and for the use of churches and Sunday-schools; of dry-goods, clothing and millinery establishments; and of articles needed in the construction, embellishment, and furnishing of dwellings, or for the ornamentation of grounds, etc., etc.

Even the Protestant papers compliment it. The Christian Advocate sometimes finds "a breadth and genuine Catholicity in its utterances that is decidedly refreshing." TOPICS OF THE HOUR.

EASTER speaks its own sublime lessons of Life, Triumph, Joy, Immortality, and unsuggested thoughts. Journey to the bourne of us all, we add no other pages of the lesson what the preachers of today will say in stirring words, and what the poets' pens have sung in immortal lyrics.. [1 in Hector's face.] Let us rejoice.

The Cardinal Archbishop consecrated the Holy Oils in St. Patrick's Cathedral, on Holy Thursday. Archbishop Corrigan was in Albany to perform the same protracted and exhausting, but most beneficial ceremony, for Bishop McQuaid, who, though still frail, is happily recovering his strength.

M. Gambetta in a recent speech of Archbishop Vaughan of Sydney, N. S. W., that Archbishop Canon is expected shortly to visit his brother in San Francisco, Cal., and that when he does the Archbishop of Sydney, Mgr. Moran, Vicar-General of St. Mungos then he may be prevailed to go still further, and, crossing the Pacific ocean, to perform the opening of the new St. Mary's Cathedral. This will be interesting to all the Australasian world as the debut of the distinguished Archbishop of Cabul.

The eloquent Bishop of Angers, Mgr Freppel, in his speech in the French parliament against the abrogation of the Concordat, touched with a needle, as he always does, the weak spot of the argument. Simply, it is not competent for the Legislature to abrogate by a unanimous and internal law an international treaty. There are two parties to every bargain and it requires the consent of both parties to cancel it. If France is willing, having derived benefits from the transaction, it is the commonest kind of justice to consider the rights of the other contracting party? Why the very word Concordat, the agreement of two competent contracting parties. We notice that Mgr. Freppel also points out the incompetency of the Chambers to even "denounce" this treaty, that being the privilege of the Executive, who is authorized to propose and make treaties, and these treaties are presented to them,they can ratify them or reject them, but once ratified they can only ask the exercise of "denounce" them. But I think the proposition is ridiculous, it is once the law in America. It also a withdrawing from 34,000,000 Catholics, after next January every religious edifice. It widens to 45,000 priests of their sustenance. It would reopen the settlement of property, gobbled up/ratified at the Fifteenth Article of the Concordat, by which the Church recognized the "transfer" of ecclesiastical estates to the actual holders from legal occupiers. M. Bernard's reply simply was, that there had been six revolutions, the Encyclical, the Syllabus and Papal Infallibility, hence, we suppose, the Assembly was at liberty to do what an essential rationalist

We anticipate, by a few days, the completion of the first decade of THE CATHOLIC REVIEW, and we celebrate this Easter with a double joy and hope, putting on, externally at least, "as armor of light" the warm and handsome dress of type, and in the permanent enlargement of THE CATHOLIC REVIEW. External beauty ought to be merely the vehicle of more lasting good qualities, and we trust that THE CATHOLIC REVIEW shall be better than ever, and more than ever, deserving of the confidence of the hierarchy, the clergy of the class of the Catholic press, and the generous support which it has. says received from the Catholic people, in every enterprise that it has undertaken. But it is not for those who put on "their armor" for the fight, to anticipate too certainly the future. We therefore can only say that, God aid helping, the best speak of our armour, will lack nothing in our labor, industry and devotion, to make our work as useful and happy to ourselves, as that of the last ten years, which has been made known to him, that as American citizens have been deprived of his liberty in a foreign country, to demand of the government of that country the reasons of such imprisonment, and in such a letter as to demand the release of such American citizen. Mr. Sherman has discovered that such an act is pure humbug, and was passed to stop the meetings of the Fenians. If such is the case, then the American Congress was capable of a proceeding which would shame the Roman Empire in its most degenerate days. That the Senate and House of Representatives of this great country, should pass a measure, intended to be ineffective, and simply to throw dust in the eyes of "our fellow-citizens, a charge of such magnitude, that we really stand appalled at the corruption it implies. Still, we sincerely hope, that certain reminiscences of the father-land enter the complexion of his present views. We do not believe that he came as bad as he chance, or that the flowers we have trained with such care in the hot-houses of our literary exhibitors, are but worthless weeds after all, when out in the open air. Analysis of a German lens. Mr. Sherman, naturally concludes, that "nothing does more to discredit the Irish cause with the United world, than the way the Irishmen allow themselves to be guided by pieces of Anglo-Saxon demagogism—like Mr. Parnell, Mr. Dillon, and Gray. It around as a cure for his woes, is a most melancholy though common-place misapprehension." If our American Congress has really intended to poison the wells at which they have drunk certain of their sons to make to drink, it does not stand matters by calling them Anglo-Saxons.] They are no more Anglo-Saxons than Mr. Sherman, and he has no right to say so. Of course, the spectacle which haunts the imagination of Mr. Sherman, is undoubtedly strength, and an Irishman, bowling about a forged note, indeed the impression that it was a real, bona-fide draft on the public faith of our government, is an object of accommodation. That, too, neither is a Gurnard, flying from the wrath of Neptune and turning his back on the deeper he has reached into the den of the Leviathan, a Mass of beauty when he dives for food. The Shepherd Jury of the barricades of Berlin, of a touch in the sentimental vein it requires but little search factor in our national law—say, between our Secretary of the Interior, and our Senator Mr. Sherman, and the Irishmen who has Prime Minister of the Prince, whom he had been, for which the plotting against, is a mere name, cement of attempts against constituted authority. All this is, perhaps, salacious.] But then why should Mr. Sherman look up in the seam of the world our representative men as a set of boneheaded fools, when they were done just now in Modern, at least, what he was there? It is cruel. We look back to our knees in spite of knowing how and carefully dispelled conditions. We were perplexed to be compelled with his touch on the years although, forward known, what agonies we suffered meanwhile. We even made him a palace residence. And that is the retreat Ungraded Here Scenes!

Western people may say, the Catholic laity in America contains some of the most admirable Catholic laymen in the world; perhaps not the worldliness, but the most learned, but we doubt if any love up to the spirit of their faith, more zealously than Catholic business men that we constantly meet, and of whose lives, through some accident of conversation or of report, we hear things that rebuke the angels, but of which the world can never hear until the Judgment Day. We will say nothing of the efforts which many note, some of them worth hundreds of thousands of dollars, and some of them they labourers spoke to hear the Holy Sacrifice of Mass. Some, whose transactions count tens of thousands of dollars, before every mass, rise at 4 a.m. in order not to lose their daily Mass at 6 a.m. And what brought the matter in our mind now is, a recollection of the additional Lenten mortifications which we have noticed, that many without ostentation. Lay practical. Teachers, we believe, will appreciate the sufferings caused by a temporary abstinence from their every day tea, and even moderate and temperate men will be mortified by a steady abstinence from their usual glass of wine. Yet the number who have thus voluntarily mortified themselves during Lent in these cities is far from small, as we have observed with thought, which caused her former contribution to this subject to command such general attention.

It is a mistake to suppose that it is only the poorest class of Russian Jews who are leaving the ungrateful home of the Muscovite. In the single town of Simferopol thirty families have joined together to found a colony in Palestine, and their united exchequer contains the comfortable sum of 180,000 roubles, about $90,000. The only Catholic Weekly in the United States with a general circulation. A splendid advertising medium for standard goods.

The Reverend Clergy, Catholic Colleges and Academies, and the most intelligent of the Catholic Laity are its readers, and as strictly unobjectionable advertising only is admitted to its columns, they place entire confidence in its advertising patrons, and ORDER BY MAIL, as the appended letters conclusively prove.

Philadelphia, Sep. 1, 1881.

For the benefit of advertisers I desire to say that my experience with advertising The Frank Siddall's Soap in The New York Freeman's Journal has been eminently satisfactory. The Soap has been advertised in some of the best advertising mediums in the country (both secular and religious), but from none have better results followed in proportion to the amount expended. FRANK H. SIDDALL.

New York, April, 1st, 1882.

We have used your Journal for the past four years (since March, 1878), and we have no hesitation in saying of it that it has proven itself to be FIRST among the Catholic papers, and ranks among the best of the secular papers we have tried. Our books show that we have received orders through it from EVERY State in the United States; the orders have ranged from five to one hundred dollars.

It is the only Catholic (English) paper published in the State, west of the Hudson.

It has the combined circulation of the "Union," of Buffalo, and "Times," of Rochester, consolidated, Oct. 1880.

Its rates are lower, in comparison with its circulation, than any paper in the State.

It is a family paper and only a certain amount of space will be given to advertisers the great bulk being reserved for readers.

Having completed its Fiftieth Volume, is the oldest Catholic newspaper in the United States.

It is the approved official organ of the Most Rev. This is a guarantee of its wide circulation among the Bishops, Priests, Religious orders, male and female, and the Catholics attending the churches and educational institutions of those localities.

It has ever been bold and uncompromising in its defence of truth. No journal is more deserving of support on account of its bright record in the past fifty years.

The only paper published in the West in the interest of the Methodist Protestant Church, and the only medium through which can be reached a large and influential class of readers.

An advertisement appearing in all the other religious papers in Pittsburgh would not reach five per cent. of the readers of THE METHODIST RECORDER.

The fact that some of the leading advertisers in the country have made steady use of its columns for years is referred to as the best evidence that can be offered of the value of THE RECORDER as a medium.

Only advertisements of reliable firms are inserted; everything of an objectionable nature is excluded from its columns.

AT EACH ISSUE.

As its name indicates, it is published in the interests of the United Presbyterian denomination, numbering 80,000 communicants and nearly 700 preachers.

There is but one other weekly in the denomination, and in influence as well as circulation THE UNITED PRESBYTERIAN very far surpasses it.

In comparison with other religious weeklies issued from Pittsburgh, it stands out prominently as the most ably edited, and largely exceeds any other in circulation. The latter fact is universally admitted, and taken in connection with the character of its circulation, makes THE UNITED PRESBYTERIAN an exceedingly desirable advertising medium.

A copy of the paper is sent regularly to every advertiser during the continuance of his advertisement.

From the Pittsburgh Dispatch.

We are prepared to say from evidence which will not be denied when the authority is demanded, that THE UNITED PRESBYTERIAN has a larger circulation than any other weekly religious or secular paper published in Pittsburgh.

(Established 1833.)

Organ of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio, and West Virginia.

The ADVOCATE is the only religious paper through which advertisers can reach the large and influential Methodist population of the above-named region, and the statistics show that in the field of its circulation there are one hundred and fifty thousand members and more than five hundred thousand adherents of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Special attention is given to the interests of those who advertise in the ADVOCATE with a view to make the advertising pay the advertisers.

The ADVOCATE is printed on good paper, and the type and arrangement is such that advertisements present an attractive appearance and are more generally seen and read than in many other papers.

The Methodist press differs from that of most other denominations in that each paper has its own peculiar local field of circulation which is not reached, to any appreciable extent, by any others; and, as the field of the ADVOCATE as defined above, is one of the richest and most prosperous in our country, advertisers should always include it in their list. General Organ of the M. E. Church, South.

Published weekly at Nashville, Tennessee.

To the camp-meeting in the country the city pastor goes, with his best and grandest sermons ready for use when the great congregation assembles. In the pride of his strength, with the dew of his youth upon him, he goes into the pulpit, and, backed by a consciousness of well-earned reputation, succeeds in making a glorious—failure. Of him, as of many another, it might well be said: "Young man, if you had ascended the pulpit as you descended, you might have descended as you ascended."

The best preparation in the pulpit will be lost upon the hearer if there is a lack of preparation in the pew. Many a fine sermon is lost, not because it was poorly delivered, but because it was unintelligently heard. To hear well requires preparation. Take a meek and quiet spirit to Church, and see how the preacher will improve that day.

The stranger in the Church—do you notice him, and give him a cordial welcome, even if you feel confident that you will never meet him again? It will act like a charm, it may be, and, in the end, it may be seen, that just such a welcome has won a soul for Christ.

Many an eloquent sermon has been like the "sounding brass and tinkling cymbal, whilst a simple, unlearned discourse, following, has pierced the hearts of sinners, and brought joy to the Church. Why is this? "Without faith it is impossible to please God."

"Recognition of friends in heaven" is a good subject for a sermon, and the preachers use it often; is there one instance for a good discourse in the theme, "Recognition of friends on earth"? And are there many congregations that do not need such a sermon!

VENI SANCTUS SPIRITUS.

Come, Holy Spirit! from the height
Of heaven send down thy bright beams!
Come, Father of the Needy! come
Giver of gifts and Light of hearts!
Thou Comforter most excellent! Thou sweet
Refreshment and her Guest,
Sole rest in labor, in burning heat
Cooling, in weeping comfort best.
O blessed Light! fill to the inmost
Of all Thy faithful, heart and soul,
And make our inward fervor glow.

THE NEW DISCIPLINE.

A writer in a Western paper finds fault with a statement of the Book Editor, in a recent number of the ADVOCATE. It was stated that the work of revising the Discipline was a task of some difficulty, and that patient attention had been given to every suggestion, opinion, and declaration, and then the written record has been made the test, as well as "personal knowledge." We do not hope to enlighten the brother who is dissatisfied with the work of the General Conference, and; it seems, with everybody else. He has been at Donnybrook fair for some time, and thus far has failed to inaugurate a "scrimmage."

If any be possible, however, that well-meaning persons may need a word more of explanation, and we take pleasure in giving it. The work of our Conferences, Annual and General, is often, toward the end of the session, greatly hurried, and it frequently happens that an expert Secretary finds his minutes in a state of confusion. Unless there is perfect organization in the corps of helpers to the chief Secretary, this result is inevitable. In the last day or two of a General Conference. Reports are written on new paper with a pencil; words are rubbed out, phrases inclined, amendments offered, adopted, and expressed orally, oftentimes; the Secretary catches only a part of the words, it may be, and then a defective record results. When the minutes are read there is not always attention given, and thus errors creep in, go to the permanent record, and must either be corrected by the Book Editor in the Discipline and Journal revision, or —he will be blamed for not doing it.

Let us take a case in point. A certain report was presented to the General Conference by the chairman of a special committee. On its presentation, objection was made to certain unguarded expressions in the report, and it was laid on the table. The next day the chairman of this committee, understanding that the report had been recommitted to him, proposed an amendment which satisfied all parties, and the report, as amended, was adopted. There is no doubt as to these facts, and yet that report stands upon the journal as originally presented, and not as perfected by the chairman and adopted by the Conference. The amendment consisted of a few words only, which the Secretary failed to get in writing, and his assistant recorded the paper as it was handed to him. No blame may belong to the chairman, one of our wisest and most careful men, for he doubtless thought the Secretary had taken down his words, and it would be needless to make the alteration with his own hand. Thus everybody supposes that the matter has been properly disposed of, until the records pass into the hands of the Book Editor. He must exercise his discretion, or permit errors to appear in print, some of which may occasion serious damage.

There lies before us a letter which shows that Dr. Summers, when doing double duty as Book Editor and Secretary of the General Conference, was compelled to resort to the same means used by the present Book Editor, in order to perfect his journal. A measure was introduced at the General Conference of 1878, and adopted. A brother who had opposed and arrested the measure, but had gone home before the final vote was taken, wrote to Dr. Summers, expressing a doubt as to the fact of its adoption. Before he could determine the matter absolutely, Dr. Summers wrote to the brother who had proposed the measure, and ascertained from him the actual state of the case, accordingly.

Now, if there be any criticism upon this condition of things, let it reach those who are really to blame. Hurried legislation in Congress, in State Legislatures, in General Conferences, everywhere, is to be deprecated and avoided as far as possible; and sometimes it happens that measures are passed which the sober second thought of the legislators regards as unwise and hurtful. But the Secretaries of General Conferences have many arduous and difficult duties to perform, for which the appreciation of their brethren is their only reward. Hold them responsible for the faults of others, is not only wrong in itself, but a thing of evil tendency.

Nothing interests a congregation more than the evidence that the preacher is interested himself. A man who is thinking while he faces an audience will awaken thought. If he is only recollecting, the audience may forget him and his theme.

PERSONAL.

The Crescent Rifles, who won the first prize in the competitive drill at Louisville, and the second prize at Indianapolis, we are informed, pledged Orsi, captain before starting that they would not touch a drop of intoxicating liquor. We hope the experiment has satisfied them that the steady nerves of temperate men are essential to the winning of victories.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Printers make funny mistakes sometimes. A correspondent of a religious paper, a colored man, writes to the Editor, or the paper says he does, and follows: "We have improved our penitence at an expense of $32 95, by painting, whitewashing, &c."

At Hedding College, Abingdon, Ill., all the graduates, eight in number, are reported as professing Christians. At the Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio, of the 64 graduates, 46 are members of the Church, and 13 of them are ministers.

It is said that the house in which Johns Milton wrote his Paradise Lost, No. 19 York Street, Westminster, has been sold after quietly taken away. The Times now is all that remains to be seen from the street, which serves as a temporary fence.

THE WAY IN APPEARS HERE

DIFFICULTIES.

Dear Bro. Lipscomb. I read your piece on the destruction of churches of Christ in the last Advocate with interest and profit. I agree with you as to the church being The Society and only one we read, but will you write in the Advocate what you think the Scriptures teach a member to do where he thinks the church is not doing the work—he can try to explain. A private member for several years meets with the brethren on break bread, attend to the collection for the saints, etc., believing the main object of this collection is to help the poor saints (necessary church ex pences to be paid out of it,of course) but the church uses all of it in paying some body to employ a house keeper, a pastor to preach for this church and no other during the time, buy land to make the yard larger and soon as the collection increases, so do the expenses. Would it be promoting one's own glory to try to do good outside of this church?
Yours in Christ,
L. H. Wilson.
South Shiloh, Ky.

That is just our trouble. Some elders are willing to spend time and means on the Young Men's Christian Association and in, most any way or on most any object except that of doing the work God has especially laid upon the church. They cannot find time or means to encourage the effort of brethren to build up the church among the poor and destitute neighborhoods, almost at their own doors. On the other hand, they frequently charge the men who make the only with hindering the cause of God because they do not work through associations unknown to God's word.

"What are we to do?" It is frequently there may to tell what we ought not to do, then to tell what we ought to do. In the days of Samuel, his sons were made judges in Israel. They took bribes and perverted judgment. They notably failed to honor the position, but perverted it to base and selfish ends. The elders of Israel saw this and determined to have nothing to do with any such abused and corrupted arrangement. They established one of their own in its stead. But God pronounced this rebellion against him and punished it severely.

We learn from this that we are not allowed to substitute our own inventions or way for God's appointments even when those are perverted and abused. I have often say except to do our duty—arguing on the elders the right way, in the true Christian spirit—seeking to lead them by persuasion, to engage in the work of God. Such ought to nothing wrong in contributing, to each person's wish that it should be used for a certain Christian work, or to give them to use in a certain way. Elders would hardly disregard a request of any person so expressed, if it were not wholly unproper and unreasonable. The only way we know is to do our duty and try kindly to lead them in the way. Once engaged in regular Christian work of the kind, they will find pleasure in it. For the labor is a delightful one. It grows in interest on every one who engages in it, as all, who delight in a Christian spirit of meekness. And in order that we may be able to do it in this spirit, let us make our duty to God our work, and the work of the church a matter of earnest and faithful prayer, and God will lead us into an open way.

The evil has arisen greatly from two causes. One is improper men are elected into the eldership. The other is—when the right men are in the work, every member acts up to do as he pleases as much, has a way of his own, so little work or consideration is bestowed on the elders, so little given them to do that they are discouraged from trying to do anything.

The cure for it lies in an humble effort of the our duty, consistent, patient effort, to honor the elders and lead them in a way God has marked out to get the right men into the right place. We cannot not many years go in one of our most intelligent congregations as a reason for putting a man into the eldership in the official board, in only gives a dollar now, if we make a dozen of him he will give a hundred. That is, a man who refuses to do his duty, must be bribed to do it by bestowing official honor upon him. God requires these different positions of labor and honor should be bestowed for proved fidelity in doing our duty. So long as such disregard of God's word, prevails as does in these matters, the church will do but little that it ought to do. But we ought patiently and kindly to work to improve the whole matter of fidelity to God in all his ways. The cure will never come through disregarding the church and its work, but by honoring and encouraging it.

Points for Advertisers.

I. Everybody likes to look at pictures. Frank Leslie's Publications are full of pictures; therefore everybody sees them and the advertisements which they contain.

II. Illustrated papers are rarely destroyed. In many cases they are preserved and bound; therefore your advertisement has a permanent value, and does protracted service.

III. Frank Leslie's Publications are sold everywhere, and are on file in hotels, reading-rooms, clubs, etc., in every civilized country; therefore your advertisement has a circulation far greater than the number of copies printed.

IV. Frank Leslie's Publications are weeklies and monthlies. None of them are glanced through for the news of the morning, and then thrown aside; they are read.

V. Frank Leslie's Publications use the best type, paper and ink which can be obtained; therefore your advertisement in them is printed clearly, handsomely and distinctly.

VI. Frank Leslie's Publications reach the better classes—those who have taste and the means to gratify it; therefore advertisers who wish to find actual purchasers will secure them by addressing Frank Leslie's readers.

VII. Frank Leslie's Publications measure advertisements in nonpareil—a clear gain of 10 per cent. to the advertiser over the ordinary agate measurement.

VIII. Frank Leslie's Publications will design and engrave for the advertiser, at trifling cost, illustrations which will double the value of the advertisement. Illustrations once used are invariably continued by successful advertisers.

IX. Frank Leslie's Publications pay the advertiser. The repeated and continuous patronage of many of the largest advertisers, to whom we are permitted to refer, proves this. Did it not pay them, they would not continue it.

Specimen copies of any of the Publications and estimates will be furnished at any time to any persons desirous of informing themselves with a view to advertising.

Weekly.

The Weekly edition of "TRUTH" will contain the general news of the week to the hour of publication; the mining and financial news; vivid descriptions of important events; interesting special letters from Washington; expositions of the operations of Monopoly in all its forms—bank, railroad, land, telegraph, etc.—and the measures proposed for their circumvention; and editorial discussions of current, political, social, industrial and religious topics.

For Half a Dollar a Year, the Weekly edition of TRUTH will lay before the public the latest thought, not alone of its own staff, but of some of the ablest of recent investigators of social and economic science, respecting the causes of the obvious tendency of wealth to concentrate in the hands of the few (who neither work nor yet spin, but Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed as one them), and the increase of poverty and dependence among the industrial classes.

MISS MINNIE MADDERN.

In the sunny South, New Orleans, the City of the Crescent, Minnie Maddern, the daughter of T. W. Davey, an actor of much merit, in December, 1864 first saw the light of day. Reared in the atmosphere of the stage, her earliest recollections are of flashing footlights and men and women players. Her youthful mind, like a sensitive plate, formed impressions impossible to eradicate, and at the early age of three years she developed such astonishing precocity that she was put upon the stage at Little Rock, Arkansas, as the Duke of York in "Richard III." The extraordinary talent displayed by the baby debutante upon that occasion, led to an engagement by the late Chas. Barbish, as a member of his Fifth Avenue Company, in which she was cast for all the child's parts. As Adrienne, in "Monsieur Alphonse," she made a remarkable record as an infant phenomenon, and until her last effort in that line, as Prince Arthur in "King John," was considered the dramatic marvel of the day.

To follow her through her subsequent career to the present time, would be but a repetition of glorious successes. She won fame and a name, but, appreciating the necessity of art in the cultivation of that gifted talent which nature had endowed her, she retired from the stage to attend school at the Ursuline Convent, St. Louis, where she studied French, and the languages. A year in the Musical College, at Cincinnati, completed her education, and barely eighteen, Miss Maddern was prepared to make the final issue by standing trial on her merits before the hypercritical audiences and critics of New York; as Chip in "Fogg's Ferry," where she made the greatest success ever granted to a comedienne. Gotham gave this charming little artiste the sobriquet of "A Ray of Dancing Sunshine." THE CHICAGO WORLD is delighted to print the charming and interesting story of Miss Maddern's new play, "Fogg's Ferry," which is to be produced Sunday and during the week at Hooley's Theatre. It turns upon the career of Chip, the supposed child of old Fogg, a ferryman, and his wife, an old shrew of the Freeland type, who ill-treats her. Chip, although uneducated and neglected, is a bright, gay little mountain elfin, and attracts the notice of Gerald White, who teaches her to read and write, much against the wishes of the Foggs. In the opening prologue, Chip frustrates an attempt on White's life by an Bruce Rawdon, a disappointed suitor, who is acquainted with Chip's real identity. White declares his love, but Chip will not consent to wed him in her present untutored way. White obtains a position for his young protege as governess for Judge Norwood's young children, where her winsome manners soon make her a general favorite. She is, however, disliked by the Judge's daughter Blanche, who has detected

Bruce Rawdon's love for the waif. Chip returns Blanche's ill will with interest. In her agonies with Blanche the rugged training she received from her supposed mother is made apparent through her ready slang and derision of Blanche's taunts. Rawdon conspires with old Fogg to break open Judge Norwood's safe, and secure the papers bearing on the birth of Chip. The latter cleverly secures the papers as Rawdon passes them to Fogg, and is caught with them in her possession. To screen her father from the consequences of his act, Chip suffers herself to be driven from the home of the Norwoods in disgrace. She takes refuge in an old deserted mill, and in her despair is about to commit suicide, when Gerald White discovers her hiding place and persuades her to desist. While in the old mill, Rawdon and Fogg appear on the scene and concoct a diabolical plan to blow up a steamboat, which is to pass the spot, upon which Judge Norwood has taken passage with his papers for a secure depository in the city. White leaves Chip to summon help, but before leaving, hands her a pistol for defense. The villains place a dynamite torpedo in the stream, and run away. Chip hears the puff of the approaching steamer, and to save the boat fires at and explodes the torpedo just as the steamer comes in sight, and passes the stage under a full head of steam. Chip now disappears for three years, which time has been spent in a convent, where the mountain waif has been placed by an unknown friend, who afterwards turns out to be Judge Norwood. She improves her time, and emerges a finished scholar, refined and so altered that it is hard to recognize her as the boyderish mountain elf of the opening acts. In the meantime Blanche has secretly married Bruce Rawdon, and is on the eve of turning Judge Norwood, her father, out of his home, she being her mother's heiress, when the opportune turning up of an old miner, Bolter, a former pal of old Fogg, reveals to Judge Norwood that Blanche is not his daughter, but that in their infancy Chip and Blanche were changed in their cradles by the Foggs This is also proven by a locket, the property of Judge Norwood's deceased wife, which Chip has kept during all her girlhood days. Chip is recognized as the rightful heiress to Norwood house and rewards Gerald White by accepting his hand in marriage. The action of "Fogg a Ferry" is said to be evenly balanced between the pathetic and the lively, the comedy in which Miss Maddern excels being particularly clear cut. The play will be produced with the original scenery from the Park Theatre, N. Y., where it met with universal success.

New York Herald.

Miss Maddern made her appearance last night at the Park Theatre, and made a decidedly pleasant impression. She is petite, has a bright and pretty face, decided dramatic talents, which make her an exceedingly vivacious little actress who cannot well help being popular. All that she does is done with a merriment that is charming. When the curtain fell on the last act, everybody got up and said Miss Maddern was good, and they were right.

The Chicago World.

We are sure that Miss Minnie Maddern, the talented and brightest jewel of the comedy-drama art of the day, will meet with positive success everywhere, under the careful guidance of her popular manager, Mr. John H. Havlin.

New York Tribune.

Her art is altogether that of an impulsive temperament which naturally inclines to dramatic expression. She was seen to be full of intelligence and sensibility, and especially, to possess a piquant and charming mischievous humor. Her drollery is that of a merry, sparkling little satirist of every-day life, and in this respect she won, last night, a brilliant success.

What Fairbanks & Co., Scale Manufacturers, 311 Broadway, New York, have to say regarding THE AMERICAN EXPORTER :

To Whom It May Concern :

We know by experience that there is no better medium than "THE AMERICAN EXPORTER" for reaching and influencing Foreign Buyers. It is 69 miles from New Orleans, and is 20 miles below the Mississippi State line. The Independent is an excellent medium for advertising. The country is in the transition from the condition of a newly settled to that of an old settled country, and all kinds of improved machinery are just being itroduced. The Milan Republican.

Established February 19th, 1876. Published at Milan, the county seat of Sullivan county, Missouri, in the second tier of counties south from the Iowa line, and 104 miles west of Quincy, Ill. It is at the junction of two trunk lines of railroad, the St. Louis, Wabash and Pacific and the C., B. & Q. The REPUBLICAN has always maintained the lead in circulation and commanding influence because it has had opinions of its own and prefers to sacrifice the good graces of grog-shops, vice and wretchedness, to the paltry pelf that might be gained at the expense of truth, self-respect and a future permanence. It has a large and constantly increasing list of subscribers, and has earned the confidence of the more thinking and substantial class of the community. The county is very evenly divided politically. Both parties alternately dominate. It has near 17,000 population. Milan has 1,500, and has doubled itself during the last four years.

As an advertising medium the REPUBLICAN is first-class. It is printed all at home.

The Dubuque Daily & Weekly Telegraph

Is the only two-cent paper published in the State of Iowa, and has a circulation more than double that of any other paper published in the city of Dubuque, and, although independent, it is the most influential paper in Dubuque Co. if not in the State of Iowa. This was evidenced at the Oct. election, 1881. Dubuque Co. is Democratic, having an average majority of about 1,500. At the Democratic Convention M. M. Ham, the Editor of the Dubuque Herald, which is the Democratic organ of Dubuque Co. was nominated for State Senator, and J. K. Graves was nominated by the Republican Convention. The Dubuque Times, the Republican county organ refused to support Graves, and came out in favor of and supported Ham. Thus leaving Graves without a party organ to support him. The Telegraph being the only real independent paper published in the county not undaunted by the gloomy prospect (6 out of the 8 papers in the county having declared for Ham) came out in favor of Graves and after a vigorous canvass Graves was elected by an unprecedented majority, being nearly 2,000 or 3,500 more than his party vote. Graves majority was nearly equal to Ham's entire vote.

The Oread,

OF THE MOUNT CARROLL SEMINARY.

Is published by the Oread Society of the Institution. It is a 28-page quarto, with a circulation of 2,000, extra issues being made for gratuitious circulation at different periods of the year. As an advertising medium, educational and college journals are rapidly gaining the position merited. The large class of teachers who are interested in school journals make the advertising space especially desirable to publishers and dealers in school apparatus.

The OREAD, as the organ of an institution nearly thirty years old, has a circulation far superior to local papers, as it goes to the old students, scattered to nearly every State in the Union, from Maine to Oregon and California, and from Minnesota to Texas, giving it superior value as an advertising medium. The DEMOCRAT is, as its name indicates, independent in tone, and while advocating Democratic principles, is not so hidebound that it fails to see and condemn the failings of its own party. It is an exponent of the people's rights without any distinction, and this fact, coupled with its sprightly serving-up of news and business matters, has given it a circulation larger than that of any other paper in lower Luzerne County. It is the only Democratic paper published amid a population of forty thousand and presents a capital advertising channel for business men and others. Advertising rates fair.

Democratic—Circulation 2,000—Established 1875—Size 26x40—4 pages, 8 columns to page.

Hartford is the county seat of Ohio County, and has a population of 12,000 and is a flourishing town. The county has a population exceeding 20,000 and is noted for coal, timber and tobacco, and also is a good agricultural and stock county.

One of the adjoining counties has no paper. An excellent advertising medium. Terms reasonable. As to circulation, influence, and reliability do not take the word of the publishers, but read the certificates of the following disinterested officials of the town and county in which it is published:

I am well acquainted with the Editors and Publishers of the HERALD, Hartford, Ky., and am a regular reader of their paper. I regard it as a reliable and newsy paper, one having the confidence of the public, and having a very large circulation for a local paper. Free from any suggestions from the publishers, I would estimate the circulation to be about 2,000 copies.

Der Deutsch-Amerikanische Mueller.

THE ONLY GERMAN MILLING PAPER PUBLISHED IN AMERICA. (ILLUSTRATED.)

EUGENE A. SITTIG, - Publisher.

CHICAGO, - - - ILLINOIS.

DER DEUTSCH-AMERIKANISCHE MUELLER is an independent trade paper, not incumbered with any special influences. Its columns are not devoted to puffing up any one particular firm, and its advertising columns are only open for legitimate business.

DER DEUTSCH-AMERIKANISCHE MUELLER is the only German milling paper, and by far the largest, most interesting and finest looking German trade paper published on this continent. Its reading columns are filled with treaties of a scientific and mercantile character, and news of real interest to millers and millwrights. It is now in its fifth year, and has always been, and is at present, recognized (by those who are able to read both languages) as the leading journal of its class—here and in Europe.

The standing of our paper among the milling public is well-known; it is not an advertising sheet gotten up for the purpose of deceiving advertisers. Every business man knows that the sure road to success is to advertise judiciously. By saying judicious advertising, we do not mean that offered by the cheap and unproductive papers that every line of trade is burdened with, but the kind furnished by papers that have both circulation and standing among those intended to be reached by the advertiser. An advertisement that attracts no attention is dear at any price. But notwithstanding this fact, there are advertisers who patronize papers that never secure an inquiry for their goods. Such papers are virtual blackmailing schemes in which the advertisers are the victims. You may rely upon it as good business principle that advertising does not pay in any paper that has not a large amount of matter directly interesting to the trade; and therefore is the DEUTSCH-AMERIKANISCHE MUELLER an excellent, and in fact the only advertising medium for manufacturers and inventors who desire to do business among the German millers in the United States and Canada.

A sample copy of the DEUTSCH-AMERIKANISCHE MUELLER is sent to every name on our list who is not a subscriber at regular intervals, and thus an advertisement in our columns for one year will be seen by every one interested in the trade. As our list is a live and constantly revised one, this makes every copy sent out tell for the interest of the advertisers.

Our circulation is guaranteed to be between 11,000 and 14,000 copies each month.

P. S.—The DEUTSCH-AMERIKANISCHE MUELLER is in no way connected with the American Miller of this city, or with any mill furnishing house whatever.

159 and 161 Dearborn Street, - - CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

The Mining Review,

Chicago, Illinois,

Beginning its Seventh Volume, January 1, 1882, is one of the best and most reliable Mining and Financial Journals published.

This reliable compendium of mining news is located at Chicago, Ills., a city which, on account of its favorable location, is rapidly becoming a prominent center of mining interest which is shown by the fact that her prominent business men are, almost without exception, interested in mining, and there is not a mining camp of any importance in the country, which does not bear the impress of Chicago capital and enterprise.

The MINING REVIEW is devoted to the mining interests of the whole country and, from its location, is enabled to reach its western patrons at least three days in advance of its eastern contemporaries published on the same day.

The carefully studied and conservative editorial management of the paper has given it a high position as the most reliable and faithful exponent of the mining industry of the country, and having no financial interest in any mine or mining stock, it CAN and WILL maintain the reputation it has gained as the most trustworthy and unbiased mining journal now published.

The MINING REVIEW presents to its readers Reports from the Mines of every State and Territory ; Mining Notes from every known mining locality ; carefully edited Coal and Iron Departments ; Correspondence from all the Mining Centres ; Market Reports of Mining Products and Mining Stocks from the chief commercial cities, and other valuable features which are necessary to a first-class mining paper.

The Mining Journal, London, England, says: "An accurate and comprehensive record of the mining industry of the United States may be found every week in the MINING REVIEW, published every Saturday at Chicago, U. S. A."

Subscription, $3.00 per Annum. Sample Copies Free.

The Confectioner and Baker,

Has a larger paying Subscription List than any similar Journal in the World.

The circulation of THE CONFECTIONER AND BAKER has increased so greatly within the past few months (at an average rate of eight or ten new subscribers per diem) that the publisher feels justified in not only adding thereto another eight pages, to accommodate the wants of its many readers, but also in diminishing the number of pages set apart for advertising purposes. This increased circulation has and is still constantly enhancing the value of our space, and we will in the future be compelled to raise the advertising rates proportionately. A just and equitable scale of rates has been fixed, which will be found below. We are forced to either adopt this method, or to make the Journal a mere advertising sheet, in which cards are taken on "the what you are willing to give plan." This latter we do not propose to do. We can assure our patrons, however, that a small advertisment in an ably conducted and well read journal is of more real value than one covering whole pages of any medium published principally for advertising purposes.

We specially call the attention of the trade to what we have designated a

COMMON SENSE PLAN OF ADVERTISING,

in small cards, under classified headings. By this plan good advertising costs but a trifle, and your name and business are kept prominently before the trade.

ESTABLISHED JANUARY 1st, 1881.

"The Glidden News Boy is the name of a paper published weekly at Glidden by Cappie Holmes and his sister, Miss Ray, who are, it is claimed the smallest and youngest newspaper managers in the State, being respectively thirteen and eleven years of age. Just think of the work incident to the preparation of a weekly five column quarto, and you can imagine the work their deft hands do besides retailing the eastern dailies and furnishing a variety of literary papers and magazines at their "news depot." Cappie is an expert at his case as is his sister, and is quick to pick up a good local on the street, and are publishing a very newsy and well arranged paper."—The Guthrian.
